1. The UB (Security Police) office staffed by 25 to 30 men was located on the south side of former Bahnhofstrasse, about 100 meters east of the Wolsztyn (O 53/V 72) railroad station. It has several German passenger cars. Neither barracks installations nor other military installations were in Wolsztyn, a typically rural town. Only occasionally were Soviet motor vehicles observed on the streets.

2. Several march columns of Polish troops were seen in Leszno (P 52/V 11) in May 1949. Later, in the refugee camp, [redacted] the barracks installation in Leszno quartered Polish troops. *
